Vietnam War Erupts On Eve Of Christmas Truce

Thai War Trap Feared

Participation In Viet Style Called Peril

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield sees in troubled Thailand the seeds of another Vietnam-style war.

The early ingredients of the Vietnam war are there, he said. American troops are being sent to help cope with rebel forces, he added, and, as was once the case in Vietnam, they are cast as advisers, not combatants.

"We could very well have in prospect another Vietnam," Mansfield said in an interview Thursday. "Our policy in Thailand seems to be treading the same path."

Long Struggle

And in Vietnam itself: "I look for a long, drawn-out struggle."

Mansfield said U.S. efforts at peace have produced "no progress toward a just settlement" and the danger of expanded conflict has increased in the past year.

He saw a flicker of hope and a step in the right direction in the U.S. request that U.N. Secretary-General U Thant seek a Vietnam cease-fire.

"In a sense, it is a controlled, limited war," said the Senate leader. "But it's a war which could get out of hand through miscalculation or accident."

Grown Gradually

"The war has escalated gradually, the dangers have increased," Mansfield said in a year-end assessment of the situation he analyzed 12 months ago as head of a Senate fact-finding team.

In a report published last Jan. 8, the Mansfield team warned that the war could engulf adjacent Laos, move into Cambodia and erupt, too, in Thailand.

Now, Mansfield said, the United States has 35,000 to 37,000 men in Thailand, "a very decided increase over the situation a year ago." He said Americans are ferrying troops by air to northeast Thailand to cope with insurgents there.

Mansfield said the Johnson administration has dealt carefully with Cambodia "and seems to be aware of the fact that Prince Norodom Sihanouk's policy is, if at all possible, to keep Cambodia for the Cambodians and apart from the struggle."

Laos Little Changed

In Laos, Mansfield said, a year has brought little change. The country is still divided, he said, despite the theoretical, three-way coalition government.

Pondering steps to keep the Vietnam war in bounds, Mansfield said it might be possible to seal off the demilitarized zone between the South and the Communist North, and carry this line across Laos to Thailand, to choke off Communist infiltration.

State's Schoolmen Asking More Aid

LANSING (AP) — Educators representing school districts throughout the state renewed a plea for more money in testimony Thursday before Senate Education Committee looking into the problems of school finance.

The committee, headed by Sen. Gerald R. Dunn, D-Flushing, concluded a series of six hearings which began Dec. 19 in Cheboygan.

Dr. Norman Drachler, acting superintendent of Detroit schools urged an increase in the state aid formula, pointing out that schools must have additional finances if all segments of the population are to be assured an adequate education.

Dr. Drachler told the committee that if Detroit were to equal the state student-teacher ratio of approximately 25-1, the city would have to hire 1,650 more teachers.

"If we were able to hire the teachers it would cost more than $13,000,000 in salaries and we would need 1,000 more classrooms representing about $30 million in building projects," he said.

Jane Tate, representing the Detroit Council of Parent-Teacher Associations, told the committee that needed books, supplies, buildings, salaries, teachers aides, counselors and vocational training programs must be "translated into dollars."

Carl Bautigam of the Albion public schools recommended that the legislature look into the question of whether it or local school groups should set standards of teacher responsibility. Also recommended was increased state aid to vocational training and driver training programs and a boost in state help in meeting the cost of transporting students to and from school.

U.S. Destroyer Is Damaged By Land Batteries

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The Vietnam war erupted today in land, sea and air action on the eve of the two-day Christmas truce.

Communist shore batteries bombarded and damaged the U.S. destroyer O'Brien off the North Vietnamese coast, and in the northern part of South Vietnam U.S. Marines reported 110 Communists killed after a five-hour battle.

U.S. B52 bombers made two more raids today, one of them in North Vietnam five miles above the Demilitarized Zone. U.S. fighter-bombers kept up their attacks on both North and South Vietnam.

A U.S. spokesman reported the O'Brien came under heavy shelling from North Vietnamese coastal batteries this morning and took two hits on her port side as well as shrapnel damage. The spokesman said casualties on the destroyer were light.

First Direct Hits

It was the first time in the war that a U.S. warship received direct hits from enemy shore batteries.

The spokesman said the O'Brien fired 130 rounds from her five-inch guns at the Communist batteries while A4 Skyhawk jets from the carrier Kitty Hawk also attacked the gun positions, he said.

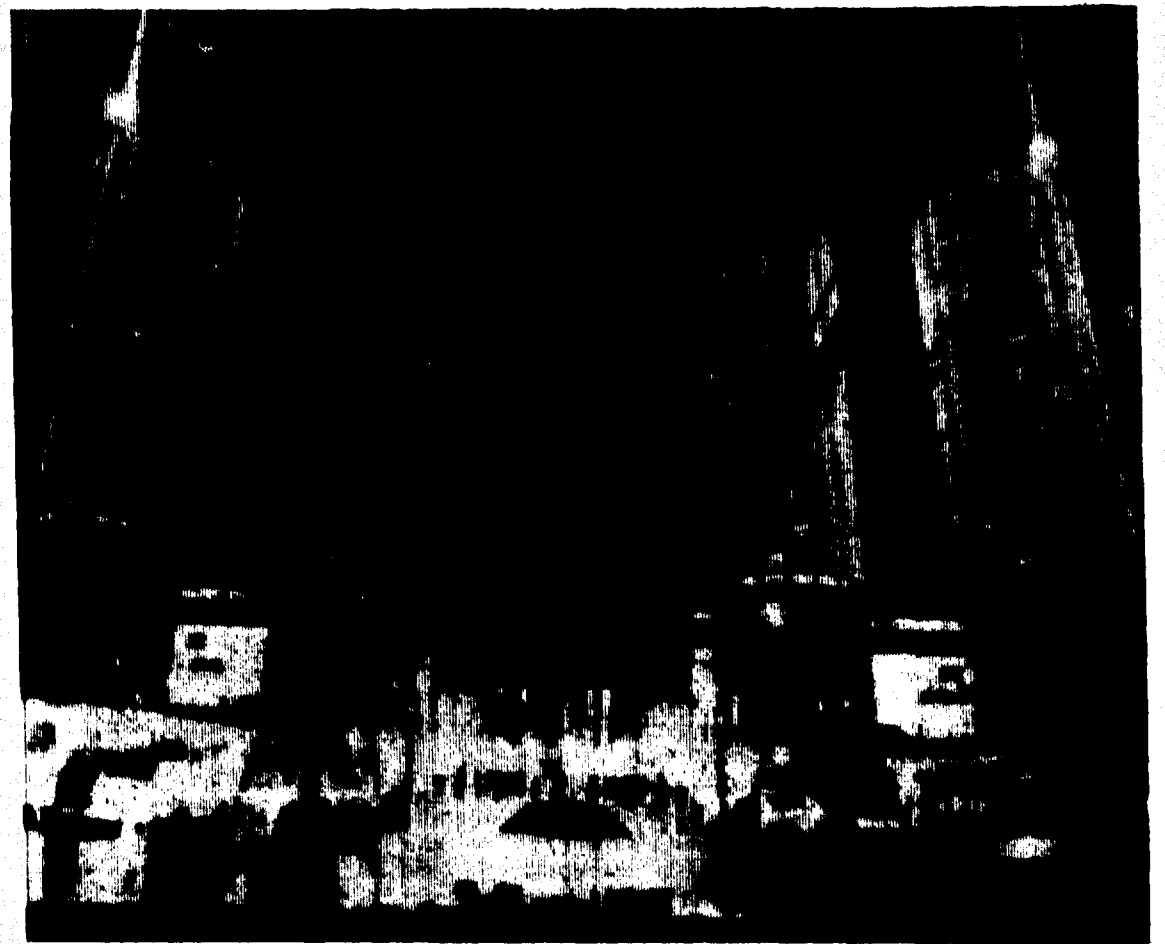

The coastal duel, lasting about 15 minutes, took place 55 miles north-northeast of Dong Hoi. The U.S. spokesman said the O'Brien was four miles offshore in international waters of the Gulf of Tonkin.

He said the O'Brien left the scene under her own power, presumably headed for a base for repairs.

U.S. Rushes Arms To Jordan Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is rushing military equipment to Jordan in an apparent attempt to maintain a balance of power in the crisis-torn Middle East.

The State Department announced Thursday night the equipment included an undisclosed number of F104 jet fighter-bombers Jordan previously agreed to purchase, but it did not spell out the other kinds or amount of assistance the United States is providing "to strengthen the defensive capability of the Jordanian armed forces."

The announcement came shortly after the Jordanian government radio in Amman announced the resignation of the government of Premier Wasfi Tell. The department said the timing of the announcement of arms aid and the resignation of Tell's government was nothing more than a coincidence.

Under Pressure Tell's 22-month-old government has been under fire both in Jordan and in other Arab countries since a Nov. 13 Israeli attack on the Jordanian village of El Samu. Its opponents demanded strong retaliatory action against the Israelis.

Shortly before the U.S. announcement, Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol said in Tel Aviv his country had "new, most important sources for weapons." The sources were not identified.

Although Eshkol reiterated in principle Israel's desire to respect existing frontiers, he said his nation was reserving its right of freedom of action in the crisis.

Israel Threat

This was an apparent reference to the recent decision of the Arab Defense Council to move non-Jordanian troops to Jordan's border with Israel.

The Washington announcement produced an Israeli threat today to buy still more arms. A spokesman for the Israeli Foreign Ministry said that his government was "thoroughly examining the significance" of the U.S.-Jordan deal and "if it should become evident that the supplies of weapons to Jordan will upset the balance in the area, the Israeli government will take immediate action to restore it."

The U.N. Security Council censured Israel for the Nov. 13 attack. Israel said it acted in reprisal for border raids by Arab terrorists.

Sources indicated the U.S. aid to Jordan includes armored personnel carriers to replace vehicles obtained after World War II from Britain.

"At the request of the Hashemite kingdom of Jordan the United States government has agreed to provide under its existing military assistance program certain items of military equipment to strengthen the defensive capability of the Jordanian armed forces," the announcement said.

"A substantial portion of this equipment will be airlifted to Jordan over the next 30 to 60 days. In addition to these deliveries, some of the F104 intercept-tor aircraft, previously purchased by Jordan, will be expedited," the State Department said.

Pro-Western

Hussein is considered a moderate and pro-Western Arab leader. After the Israeli attack last month, leaders of other Arab nations accused the king of neglecting his border defenses. Some elements, especially in Syria and Egypt, urged Jordanians to get rid of their king.

Sources indicated Jordan will get about 36 F104 planes. The exact number, however, is classified. Jordan will pay for the planes, but will receive the other equipment on a grant basis which apparently will double the present $4 million to $5 million a year military assistance to Jordan.

Ike In Hospital For Christmas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will spend Christmas in the hospital, spokesmen say.

The general hoped to be out of Walter Reed Army Hospital and back to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm by Christmas following his Dec. 12 gall bladder operation.

But instead he'll be kept for what the hospital called a "few more days" of "further adjustment of medications and observation." The hospital quoted the Army surgeon general, Lt. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, Thursday as saying Eisenhower's progress "has been excellent and that from a surgical standpoint he has been released."

The hospital did not specify when he would be released. Eisenhower plans to go to Palm Desert, Calif., in early January.

Griffin Sees Fighting Hope For GOP In '68

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans have "a good fighting chance" to win the White House in 1968, Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., said today.

And, not surprisingly, Griffin thinks Gov. George Romney of Michigan would be an "outstanding candidate" should he be selected for the GOP presidential nomination.

Griffin won a full six-year term in last month's election by defeating Democrat G. Mennen Williams, a former Michigan governor. Griffin tied his campaign closely to Romney, and the latter's smashing triumph undoubtedly gave Griffin a big boost at the polls.

In referring to matters to be considered by Congress next year Griffin said, "If Congress got the message from the people in the recent election, we will spend a lot of time re-evaluating some of the legislation passed by the (last) 90th Congress."

But he said it would be a mistake just to oppose — for the sake of opposition — the legislative program to be offered by President Johnson.

"I think and hope that the Republican party will be a constructive force," he said. Republicans made a net gain of 47 House seats and 3 in the Senate as a result of last month's election.

Asked what Congress was likely to do if it is requested by Johnson to increase income taxes, Griffin told a reporter "A good deal would depend upon the case that President Johnson presents to Congress and the people."

If a showing can be made that a tax increase would be in the national interest, Griffin said, Congress will act responsibly.

He criticized Johnson for estimating that the cost of the Vietnam war through June 30 — when the current fiscal year ends — will total $10 billion. Griffin said the actual cost will be twice the estimate.

Griffin said areas of increasing concern for the new Congress will be air and water pollution, mass transportation and other problems that affect the urban population.

2 DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

Lake States Farm Outlook Is Dull

GREEN BAY — Efforts to develop the economy of the northern Great Lakes States were praised by John A. Baker, assistant secretary of agriculture, who foresaw this area as having an excellent potential for badly needed living space for America's growing population.

Baker, addressing the Northern Great Lakes Resource Development Committee here, said the lay advisory committee, now three years old, had made a good start in assessing problems and objectives of the area in economic development, which now will receive a husky boost from a new federal-state effort directed by the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission.

Living Space

Baker said "By the year 2000 — a generation from now — we will have some 350 million people in this country. That will be twice as many as we had in 1960. Where will all these people live? Even now more than 70 per cent of the population occupies only about one per cent of the land area.

"Will we stack them up in high caves made of stone and steel with no playgrounds for children, no lakes, no forests, no open spaces?" asked Baker.

"Rural America offers an alternative choice," he told the committee of citizen planners and government agency advisers.

81 Counties Involved

"A rural America that offers no educational and job opportunities for young people, an area without good housing and basic community facilities, does not give people any choice but to live in the cities," Baker emphasized.

"One of the great challenges of this generation is the rebuilding and full development of rural America. You people have accepted that challenge and the nation is grateful to you for what you are doing," Baker declared.

Baker told the committee that the Agriculture Department is vitally interested in the Great Lakes area. He said it will watch closely the progress of the new Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission.

Organization Scheduled

The commission was set up under the Economic Development Act, and will be formally organized early next year. Thomas Francis, federal co-chairman of the commission, spoke at committee session at the Downtowner Motel.

"You people have a great deal to contribute to the development of the plans of the commission," Baker told the committee.

About 60 representatives of the 81-county area attended the two-day meeting. The committee is composed of local public officials, bankers, farmers, merchants, recreation developers and other citizens. Working with them are various agricultural agency specialists, dubbed TAP—technical action panel.

TAP came in with two reports, one on agriculture, the other on forestry.

The experts saw no great opportunities in agriculture for the immediate future, but said there were possibilities for general improvement as the area developed.

Dairy Price Hike Noted

It was noted that dairy prices have improved, and in sections where forage can be produced it might be possible to build a combined dairy and beef enterprise. The panel subcommittee also urged consideration of fruit, potato and vegetable production.

The TAP report on forestry saw a need for improving conditions for woods workers. There is a labor shortage in the woods and the committee recommended special schools to recruit and prepare workers required to operate modern timber harvesting equipment. It also urged continued development of mechanical equipment to further eliminate physical labor.

Harold Dettman, of St. Ignace, committee president, stated that special reports on outdoor recreation will be presented at the next regular meeting March 20-22 at Iron Mountain.

WNMR Planning Preview Of U.P. Biathlon Trials

MARQUETTE — Upper Peninsula residents next week will get a "sneak preview" of the U. S. National Biathlon Championships, to be held in Marquette Jan. 20-22, and Northern Michigan University's educational television network, WNMR-TV.

The event, which will be staged southeast of the Marquette County Club and will be hosted by NMU, will be the subject of "Northern Dimensions" at 9 p.m. Wednesday.

Discussing the official winter Olympic meet, which is cross-country skiing combined with rifle shooting along a marked course, will be Dr. Rico Zenti, NMU's director of athletics, and Gil Heard, NMU sports information director. Film of a previous national biathlon championship also will be shown.

Other WNMR-TV programs next week:

"Losing Just the Same" at 8 p.m. Monday is a documentary dealing with the false dreams and festering despair of Negroes in urban America.

The controversial work of Barnett Newman will be featured at 8 p.m. Tuesday on "U. S. A.: Artists." The half-hour film traces his "Stations of the Cross," 14 paintings which Newman says "can exist without a church."

A trio of New York Times reporters will consider the future of President Johnson's Great Society in the aftermath of the recent elections at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

An all-star production of Tennessee Williams' "Ten Blocks on the Camino Real" at 9 p.m. Friday will raise the curtain on a new weekly showcase of drama, film, and musical comedy.

Escanaba Calendar:

Facts, Pictures Tell City's Story

Escanaba's 1967 calendar will have 12 months just like any other — but it will have something new: The cover for each month will be illustrated by a picture drawn by a local artist.

The city's annual report combined with a calendar has been well accepted by the public in the past, and the hope is that the new one will have added decorative value, said Howard Smale, Escanaba's administrative assistant.

Four thousand five hundred of the calendars are being printed by Photo Offset Co. of Escanaba and will be distributed next week. The distribution will be made by the young people of the First Methodist Church as a project supervised by Lyle Plowman and Roger Jewell.

Statistics, facts and figures are an important feature of the annual report, informing the citizens of the community on the operation of municipal government and its financing.

Revenues And Costs

For example the report gives a breakdown on revenues and disbursements on the basis of the division of $1, which makes for easier understanding of city finances.

Of the total revenue dollar, general property tax brought in 30 and a fraction cents to help meet the cost of municipal services; city utility earnings were an additional 24 and a fraction cents; and other revenues included sales tax, motor vehicle and highway tax, and other state and federal returns.

Disbursements, again on the basis of $1 comparison, were topped by special assessment construction (sewers, streets, water lines) costing nearly 18 cents; fire protection cost 13 1/2 cents; police protection 12 cents; general city operation nearly 16 cents; highway and street work 10 cents; sewage, sanitation and garbage collection 9 cents.

The detailed financial activities of the city are contained in the annual audit report. Copies are on file at the Carnegie Library.

League Cooperated

Mayor Harold J. Vanierbergh in a message to the citizens invites continuing participation of the people in city affairs: "to a greater degree than ever," and promises that by working together the city's problems can be resolved.

There is also a message by City Manager George Harvey, who expressed appreciation for citizens participation; and the Council extended "a special word of thanks to the League of Women Voters for the great amount of time and effort" they have given the annual report-calendar project.

The drawings illustrating the calendar include a cover by Alice Powers, and pictures by local people of the following subjects:

January - A snow removal scene by Dolores Henderson, 300 S. 25th St.

February - A view from the window is presented by Dorothy Vogt of 1012 7th Ave. S.

March - Mrs. William DeHaan of 307 S. 3rd St., pictures the coal tower in the C&NW Railway yards.

April - A scene along Portage Creek, drawn by Suzanne Decker, 932 N. 18th St.

Variety Of Scenes

May - Walter Hamilton, 1204 12th Ave. S., had done a waterfront scene.

June - Karas Memorial Bandshell is the subject selected by Clint Dunathan, 2009 12th Ave. S.

July - Alice Powers of 612 S. 12th St., does a picture of fireworks against a night sky.

August - Boats in parade on Venetian Night were drawn by Mary Giguere, 1634 Lake Shore Drive.

September - Marilyn H. Trotter, 327 S. 5th St., presents a view of Lake Shore Drive.

October - The old Hansen & Jensen fish dock is pictured by Herbert Nicholson, 1408 S. 15th St.

November - The coal dock, water front landmark, was the subject chosen by Clara Mosenfelter, 1300 8th Ave. S.

December - Jeanette Opalewski, Bark River Rte. 1, selected an appropriate church scene.

War Makes Christmastime Lonely For Young Couples

By ELAINE SCHULTZ
The Christmas season for most people is filled with happiness, peace and companionship. But for some young couples this most cheerful season of the year can be the loneliest one — for husband and wife are half a world apart.

They are separated by war, with the young wife at home and the husband stationed in far-off Vietnam.

How will they spend Christmastime this year?

Three young couples of the Escanaba area are among several from Delta County who say that gifts and messages will help bring them closer in spirit during the holidays.

For example, John Pinar, 20, who has been stationed in Can Ra Ha Bay since Oct. 4, will receive a tape recorder from his 19-year-old wife, Lois.

Visit With Families
"I decided to send a tape recorder," explained Mrs. Pinar, "because although we write every day it's not like hearing his voice."

Pinar and his wife both graduated from Escanaba High School in 1965. He was employed at Sturdy's Mink Ranch and received his draft papers on his 19th birthday.

The Pinars were married April 16, 1966. He isn't expected to return from Vietnam until next September or October.

"Bob Hope and company arrived at Can Ra Ha Bay at the EMC Club Dec. 30, just three-quarters of a mile from John, so he was supposed to see them," Mrs. Pinar said. "I'll be spending my Christmas with both of our parents. I work at Management Science Inc., and in my spare time I sleep, write letters and visit my in-laws."

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Nick Pinar Jr., 18 Electric

THE VIETNAM DOLL held by Lois Pinar, 720 S. 12th St., was a gift from her husband, John, who is in service in far-off Vietnam this Christmastime. She sent him a tape recorder so that he might hear his voice on "taped" messages while waiting his return in the fall of 1967. (Daily Press Photo)

Wells and Mrs. Pinar lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Maynard at 720 S. 12th St.

Richard Vuksan, 19, stationed in Vang Tau, is an electrician on the ship USS Tutuila. His wife, Ruth, 18, lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bureau of 1622 S. 7th Ave. She sent her husband a food package for Christmas and writes to him each day.

Vuksan, a 1966 graduate of Gladstone High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vuksan, 1305 Superior Ave., Gladstone. He joined the Navy right after graduation. Mrs. Vuksan is a 1966 graduate of Escanaba High School.

"Rick will be home in June but not through with the service. We don't know where he will be stationed then," said Mrs. Vuksan. "I'll be spending this Christmas visiting with his parents and mine."

Married 10 Months
John Harris, 20, now in Chu Lai, will also be receiving a food package from his wife, Donna, 19, of 501 S. 13th St., who is employed at Clairmont Transfer. Harris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Harris of Wells and Mrs. Harris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald VanEnkevort, Rte. 1, Bark River.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris have been married 10 months and he has been in Vietnam for nine. "He has five months left there but it sure seems like a long time," said Mrs. Harris. "He has one and one-half years left of service."

Harris graduated from Holy Name High School in 1964 and was employed at Butler's Bakery and Kallio's before entering service. Mrs. Harris graduated from Holy Name in 1965, and in her spare time knits and sews and will be spending her Christmas with both of her parents.

"He doesn't really mind Vietnam, it's just that he wants to get home," she said.

The phrase "just wants to get home" fully explains the feeling of loneliness that darkens the cheerful spirit this holiday season.

Relatives, friends and others wish for lasting peace so these three couples — as well as anyone else who is separated — may "get home" to celebrate a joyous Christmas in 1967.

Problems Beset Gregoire Family At Christmastime

The holidays are an opportunity for family gatherings, but for Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gregoire of Kingsport, Tenn., former Escanabans, it has been a time of problems.

Tom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gregoire of 812 S. 19th St., is employed in labor relations with Mead Corp. at Kingsport. Last summer he was ill and although he is recovering, he entered Bethesda, Md., hospital for examination shortly before Christmas.

Mrs. Gregoire, the former Carol Abel, daughter of the Anton Abels of 1304 1st Ave. S., and the five Gregoire children came to Escanaba to spend the holidays.

They flew part way to Escanaba on Eastern Airlines, and shortly after arriving here they were notified that she and the children had been exposed — on the plane — to a suspected spinal meningitis case. The case was a young serviceman who boarded the plane at Louisville, Ky., and was very ill when he left the plane in California.

The 192 passengers on the plane were all notified of the danger and Mrs. Gregoire and the children — Peter 10, Paul 8, Patti Ann 7, Pamela 6 and Penny 3 — are all receiving antibiotics at the direction of a local physician.

Mrs. Gregoire and the children did not ride in the same section of the plane as the serviceman, and while the chance of infection is remote, every precaution is being taken to guard their health.

Cub Scouts Hold Meeting, Christmas Party

BARK RIVER — The Cub Pack 445 meeting and Christmas party was held Monday evening in the Bark River-Harris Elementary School.

The program opened with a welcome by Cubmaster Jack Erickson, followed by a flag ceremony conducted by Brian Kleiman, Dean Peterson, William Belanger, Dennis Monlowczak, Stephen and Calvin Wendrick and Edwin Olson.

Roll call was by the cubmaster and Den III won the traveling trophy. David Erickson and James Ault, new Bobcats, were presented with pins by the cubmaster. Matt Hanson and Douglas Ayres received badges for getting new members.

Parents Participation skit was led by Pastor Charles Beckingham, assistant cubmaster. The Cub Scouts trimmed the Christmas tree with ornaments they had made. Mrs. Marvin Ray was accompanist for the group singing of Christmas Carols.

Highlight of the evening was the arrival of Santa Claus who distributed gifts to fifty-five children, Cub Scouts and their brothers and sisters. Games were played and lunch was served.

The next meeting will be Monday, Jan. 23, at the elementary school, when the Pine-wood Derby will be held. Mothers are urged to bring the Cub Scout achievement books up-to-date.

Deer In Yards; Snow 0.6 Foot

Snow that came in depths up to one foot across the northern tier of Upper Peninsula counties by mid-November were recorded Dec. 12 as .6 foot to 1 foot in the Baraga District; a trace to .2 foot in the Crystal Falls District; .2 to .7 foot in the Escanaba District; and none to 1.5 feet in the Newberry District, the Department of Conservation reports.

Minimum and maximum readings in the Baraga District are found south of Kenton in Houghton County at 3 foot and 1 foot on the eastern shore of Lake Gogebic, four miles south of Bergland in Ontonagon County. Snow gauge readings in the Crystal Falls District show a trace in Menominee County and .3 foot in Iron County near Beechwood.

Escanaba District reports a low of 2 foot in Marquette County at Shot Point, 14 miles east of the City of Marquette, and a high of .7 foot in Alger County, 3 miles north of Limestone.

The Newberry District reports the greatest depth of 1.5 feet in Luce County, 24 miles north of Newberry and no snow in Mackinac County.

Snow depth readings are taken from 34 gauges. Average snow depths for the Upper Peninsula on Dec. 12 was 45 foot. Last year at this same time, it was .6 foot.

Deer have moved from their summer range to areas in and near their winter yards.

Canned Xmas Here In Force

NEW YORK, N.Y. (AP) — The Christmas canning season has just had its greatest observance — full of canned dresses, canned minipanties, canned ties, canned air.

Even canned air. "We're canning just about everything that will fit," said Wilmer Wise, vice-president of Franklin Simon, the New York department store.

"Young people who were raised sitting on the back of a basket being pushed through a supermarket relate to things that are canned," Wise said. "There is something ingenious and kooky about the appeal of a dress in a can," said Ben Wechsler, assistant to the president of Wippette Sportswear, Inc., which introduced the Canned Dress in November.

"It's been a complete sell-out in Canada, and we've sold 100,000 in six weeks. They're in London and Paris too."

The canned, supposedly wrinkleproof nylon dresses sell for $25. Matching stitched hats cost another $7 and can be dropped into the same one pound tin. New models are on their way for spring.

The lids pry off. Fifth Avenue Cards, Inc. has been selling $1 canned greeting cards for about a year — empty cans with birthday tidings or whatever on the label.

Wise said his store had sold hundreds of canned depression survival kits which contain, among other items, instruction on how to build your own apple stand.

He said that most of the canned items were for teen agers. "What doesn't come in a can, we'll can right there," he added pointing to a canning machine. "We've canned marble eggs, scarves, handbags, jewelry, featherdusters, games — anything that will fit."

"One day a woman called and said she heard we had a canning machine. She wanted to know if we would can her preserves. We didn't do it, but it ought to give someone an idea. Someone can open a shop saying, 'We'll do your canning for you.'"

Seney Invites Ice Fishermen To Use Pools

The Seney National Wildlife Refuge will be open again this year for ice fishing and spearing.

As in past years all refuse pools will be open to fishing from Jan. 1 through Feb. 28. Access may be gained through the headquarters road or the sub-headquarters road south of Germfask and the Driggs River road 8 miles west of Seney. The roads into A, C and M Pools in Unit II and C Pool in Unit III will be plowed for the opening. Travel by snowshoes is permitted along established roads, trails and dikes.

Northern pike are found in all the pools and good numbers of perch are also present. State fishing regulations apply to all ice fishing and spearing in the refuge. In addition to these, refuse regulations prohibit the use of minnows for fishing. However any other live bait or artificial lures may be used.

Parents who give in to their children lose more than they gain.

Loggers Comp For Wisconsin Urged In Study

GREEN BAY, Wis. — The timber producing industry was urged to take better care of its workers in a report to the Northern Great Lakes resource development Committee here.

Prepared from studies started last March by a technical committee headed by Adrian De Vriend, Extension forester at Hayward, the report stressed mostly pulp operations and said:

If the pulpwood industry wishes to maintain a strong independent producer force, it must take greater interest in the welfare of woods workers.

If wood producers want a stable labor force, they must assure the woods worker an adequate annual wage, provide benefits comparable with those of other industries and eliminate hard physical labor with mechanization.

New Respect
The community must create a new respect for the woods worker so that he can be proud of his occupation.

The woods worker must recognize his responsibilities and rid himself of the old time lumberjack image.

Research for the report included meetings with about 90 wood producers at Rhineland, Spooner and Phillips, Wis.

Michigan Ahead
The report called for changes in the workmen's compensation and unemployment pay laws to fit forestry needs, safety programs, tax corrections, comparable fringe benefits and a revision of truck weight and width laws.

It noted that producers who did not provide workmen's compensation were able to pay higher prices for wood on the stump and as a result got the most desirable tracts and made a better profit.

But at the same time, the report added, they shifted the burden of caring for the injured worker to the community.

(Michigan law compels compensation coverage on woods workers by all employers of one or more workers.)

Special Offering At Adventist Church Saturday

A Brazilian hospital for victims of the dread savage fire disease (pemphigus) will benefit from a special offering given this Saturday by Escanaba Seventh-day Adventists.

"The appearance of the victim of savage fire," explains Pastor John Erhard, "is repugnant. His face is swollen, and his scaly skin burns and itches from head to toe. It falls in shreds when he touches it."

Pastor Erhard says the victims, if fortunate hear about the Adventist's Penfigo Hospital in the state of Mato Grosso. There they are treated without charge with a pitch base cream.

All the sheets in the hospital though clean, are permanently stained gray from the black cream.

After treatment with the coal-tar base cream and Cortisone many patients completely recover. Two of the nurses at the hospital were themselves formerly victims. The death rate, once 40 per cent, is now about 4 per cent.

According to Pastor Erhard, the Penfigo Hospital—the name is derived from the name of the disease—began as a straw lean-to with bamboo out-houses in 1949. The present brick-and-tile building is deteriorating and must be replaced with a larger more up-to-date structure.

The Adventist hospital in Sao Paulo will also benefit from the offering.

Robert St. Clair, Sabbath School Superintendent of the local Adventist Church, announced that the Children's Department of the Church will give a special end-of-quarter program Saturday morning.

The Library of Congress in Washington, D. C., was founded on April 24, 1800.

Jackie's Suit

Whatever the outcome of Mrs. John F. Kennedy's suit against William Manchester, Harper & Row and Look Magazine to prevent publication of "The Death of a President" without some deletions, the offensive writing is out of the bag.

Robert Kennedy signed a memorandum of understanding with Manchester in March, 1964 spelling out conditions under which he would write a book on the President's assassination which would be the family-authorized version. The late President's family sought a sober account to avoid sensationalism and handpicked the author and made available exclusive information.

The family approached Theodore H. White and Walter Lord who declined and then signed Manchester who had written "Portrait of a President" in 1962, which one reviewer described as "adoring." Mrs. Kennedy felt strongly about the preparations for the book. When she learned that Jim Bishop, author of "The Day Lincoln Was Shot" was working on a book on the assassination she wrote asking him not to proceed with his book, "The Day Kennedy Was Shot."

She explained that she had hired Manchester "to protect President Kennedy and the truth." Bishop is quoted as saying "She's trying to copyright the assassination."

The crucial clause in the memorandum put Manchester under contractual obligation to have the manuscript reviewed by Mrs. Kennedy and Robert Kennedy "and the final text shall not be published unless and until approved by them."

This obligation appears to have been lost in the shuffle somewhere, but on the other hand it is mysterious why the Kennedys didn't bother to inspect the text personally and get excited about what it said until so late in the game that the presses were running and Look was getting the first installment of the serialization up for January sale.

Manchester worked nearly two years on the book, conducted a thousand interviews, including 10 hours spent taping Mrs. Kennedy's statement in 1964. She spoke very freely and says she relied upon Manchester's discretion to protect her.

The 11th hour reaction to the Manchester book by Mrs. Kennedy seems to have come as result of feedback of concern from family friends who had read the text, but the situation remains confused.

The suit brought it out into the open and it has caused a historic flap which now seems on the way to settlement with an agreement by Look Magazine to make some deletions requested by Mrs. Kennedy.

But, no matter the settlement, a great deal of anger has been displayed in public and the Kennedys, President Johnson and Manchester (who has been made ill by the tensions created) have all suffered some tarnish. Much of the speculation on the motivation for Mrs. Kennedy's suit (many copies of the text were out as a basis for bids on serialization) suggested that the anti-Johnson tone of Manchester's text was a prime factor.

With the presidential nomination coming up in 1968 and President Johnson under an increasing drumfire of criticism, Kennedy Administration holdovers in the Johnson Administration were dismayed when the 5-year delay in publication of Manchester's book called for in the memorandum was reduced.

Mrs. Kennedy's sense of propriety is probably the most crucial area in the controversy. It is her own uninhibited comment to Manchester which offends her as material for a history. There should have been an early review of the text by her, but she apparently found it very difficult to do this and last July Robert Kennedy sent Manchester a telegram saying that the Kennedy family wouldn't obstruct the book's publication. This telegram is now described as a tranquilizer for worried Manchester, but he regarded it as an approval of the revisions.

No settlement of the suit now can be thoroughly effective. The action has destroyed hope for the tranquility which was the reason for the book. It has opened a Pandora's box of rumors and distortions that even the book won't correct. Readers will say: "They took out the mustard."

If they ever have a "Be kind to your partner week" we suggest a few slogans such as:

"Your partner is looking right at his cards. Let him bid them."

"Your partner knows the score."

"Your partner knows that bonuses are given for slams and rubbers."

That 30 on score had the same effect on North as a red rag to a bull. He hardly had a raise to two but he jumped to three. After all, South might not know about the rubber bonus.

South did not have to leap right to six spades. It was mighty difficult for South to visualize any holding by his partner that wouldn't produce a very good play for a slam but there is no law requiring you to jump to a slam merely because you think you can make it. Also, North might have a hand which would produce a grand slam.

We don't always approve of superstitious bidding but South could well have afforded to try a five-diamond cue bid to see if North could show the ace of hearts. Of course, the ace of hearts would not be enough to warrant a seven bid but South could call and let his partner know about the grand slam interest.

North suggested that South should have tried the five-diamond cue bid and quit at five spades after North could not show the ace of hearts.

This wasn't "Be kind to your partner week" and we can't print South's reply. We can report that East and West enjoyed collecting 200 points instead of losing the rubber.

The Faces Of Jesus

Comforter In Stormy Seas

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

AP Religion Writer

Deep ravines trenched the mountainsides, and out of them burst the sudden storms. Raging all around, on every side, the dark, brooding defiles of the winds disgorged their intermittent fury on the sunken sea.

And men traveled on that sea.

It was a treacherous place to be, unpredictable, chancy, so placid one moment, so wild the next, with shrieking violence and panic.

Mortals trembled at the stroke. Was there no security, no certitude, on this nether passage? Was God asleep, or dead? "Do you not care if we are perishing?" the Apostles cried.

Down from the corrugated heights, which rim the Sea of Galilee, the funnel-like gorges spew their instant squalls on that yawning waterway. 700 feet below sea level. And the voyagers saw no hope.

It was night. The boat plunged and rolled, swamped by the hurtling waves. And the human beings, caught there in the peril and crisis native to their realm, despaired.

"Master, Master, we are perishing!"

Yet despite their doubts, there also was stability in that fierce crossing. There was basic sustenance and balance in the teeth of the tumult and frenzy among men. "Peace! Be still!"

In that voice, out of the mystery of that man called Jesus, flowed overwhelming calm. "Why are you afraid? Have you no faith?" And into the savagery that lashed the earth came strangely, overruling serenity.

It had seemed, in the buffeting of the elements and the helplessness, that He was uninvolved, uncaring, a sleeping Lord, no longer present, but He was there, nonetheless, accessible, responsive to men's insufficiencies.

It is odd that an itinerant Jewish teacher of obscure Galilee could have been so effective.

At his first press conference, Spiro T. (Tony) Agnew, Maryland's Republican governor-elect, made the usual promise to appoint only the best qualified people to the important state patronage positions.

He went on to say that he himself would carefully scan the biographical resumes of each prospective appointee to insure this proper selection. At least, that's what he intended to say.

As uttered, it came out "biological resumes" in an unusual slip of the tongue.

"That's great, governor!" somebody quickly called out. "But a lot of people are having problems just bugging a telephone these days."

Robert Docking, Kansas governor-elect, is one of only two Democrats who defeated Republican incumbents at the statewide level last November. (The other, of course, is governor-elect Kenneth Curtis of Maine.)

For this reason—and because Kansas is traditionally one of the staunchest Republican states in the country—some political observers are wondering aloud what sort of maverick Democrat Docking may be.

Docking himself is one of them. When Hubert Humphrey stopped off in Kansas City in September, Docking was labeled as "Hubert's boy" and a darling of the Americans for Democratic Action.

In October, his opposition began using the slogan, "A vote for Docking is a vote for LBJ." And finally, after Robert Kennedy endorsed him, lee could instill such assurance, such deep-going trust and respite into the turbulent journey of men. Yet He himself was enigmatic, extraordinary.

He was a plain workman, a companionable mixer, a great storyteller, a nonconforming and uncompromising rebel. He was all of these faces and functions, but in sum, He was not just any of them.

"I am the door... I am the good shepherd... I am the way, the truth and the life."

He could not be categorized, or pinned down to any conditional mold or men. He fits no description profile.

In the countenance with which He graced this earthly sphere, with its varied expressions, one perhaps characterized Him more adequately than all the rest.

That was His role as a comforter—the one who relieved the anguish among men, who tamed the tempests of life.

"Peace I leave with you, My peace I give to you. Let not your hearts be troubled, neither let them be afraid."

It was an inner reinforcement, a penetrating, healing balm that He dispensed along His way, freeing the rejected from loneliness, the deprived from their mire, the rich from shackles of wealth, the sick from their pain.

One after another, He talked with them, lifted them up. The blind came crying for sight. "Do you believe?" "Yes, Lord." He touched their eyes.

"According to your faith, be it done unto you."

A woman, weak with a chronic hemorrhage, was sure of Him that she thought that if she could only touch His cloak, it would heal her. Her hand brushed the garment. "Take heart, daughter, your faith has made you well."

A recurrent note figured in the healing incidents—faith in recovery. "Do not fear, only believe," He emphasized. "All things are possible to him that believes." "Go, your faith has made you whole."

He also dispensed, unstintingly, the medicine of loving forgiveness. Should a man forgive as many as seven times, an Apostle asked. Not just seven, He said, but "70 times seven." He said, but "70 times seven," beyond counting.

Devious opponents flung a shabby, stricken prostitute in front of Him, saying the law demanded stoning her for adultery. He traced that unrecorded sentence in the sand, and told them:

"Let him who is without sin among you be the first to throw a stone at her." Silent, abashed, they crept away, leaving Jesus and the woman alone. "Has no one condemned you?"

"No one, Lord."

"Neither do I condemn you, go, and do not sin again."

The world still navigates that precarious sea between the hills of time. And out of the gorges the thunders still break, the winds rage and the wayfarers huddle, forlorn, unsure, writhing against the night.

But in the thick of the tempest, a friend travels with men. That is the man born at Christmas, the worker, the mixer, the storyteller, rebel and the great comforter. He who plunged into man's struggles, emergencies and tragedies, confronting the harshest blows, and knowing it would continue to be hard, yet in his remarkable manhood, confident about it and triumphant.

"Truly, truly, I say to you, you will weep and lament... but your sorrow will turn into joy... In the world you have tribulation, but be of good cheer, I have overcome the world."

And he had a story to tell about that, a brief Christmas story:

"When a woman is in travail she has sorrow, because her hour is come, but when she is delivered of the child, she no longer remembers the anguish, for joy that a child is born into the world."

Docking believes his election may have national significance. "Kansas has always been a crucible of future landlides," he says. "For instance, Kansas telegraphed the return of the GOP to power in 1952 when it resisted the FDR appeal in the 1964 Johnson landslide when it went Democratic against its own favorite son, Alf Landon, in 1936."

"And so," he concludes, "the full significance of my election will undoubtedly be reflected in another generation."

This conversation was overheard in a State Department corridor on the day that former Nazi party member Kurt Kiesinger was sworn in as chancellor of West Germany.

"Say, did you hear what song is now No. 1 on the German hit parade?"

"No."

"I wonder what Kiesinger now."

Quote-of-the-week: From an anonymous civil servant during a hot argument with a colleague of noticeably short stature:

"You'd better watch what you're saying, buddy, or I'll push the down button on your elevator ahead!"

People, Events Of Yesteryears

From the files of the Escanaba Daily Press

25 Years Ago

Postoffice clerks are among the busiest people in town now as the annual Christmas holiday mailing rush reaches its peak. Extra employees are on the job, though, and patrons are not kept waiting in long line. The Press photographer snapped a picture of many customers who were eagerly waiting for their turn at the window.

50 Years Ago

According to carriers and clerks at the Escanaba postoffice, more Christmas packages and letters are being both received in the city and sent out of the city than ever before in its history. Clerks have worked throughout the night on a few different occasions, distributing and sorting great mounds of packages and letters so that the decks may be cleared for the avalanche of mail that arrives in the morning.

Under the directions of members of the Charity committee of the Escanaba Woman's Club, 115 Christmas baskets were distributed to the homes of many poor families in the city. Members of the committee have been at work in the basement of the Carnegie Public Library, preparing the baskets.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Ann Landers

Nothing You Can Do Now Except To Hope

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from the 20-year-old boy who was trying to get away with that big-brother act prompts me to write this letter. Our son is also 20 and he is dating a 14-year-old girl, but he has made it plain that this is no brother-sister relationship.

My husband and I have done our best to point out the dangers of this set-up but to no avail. We have warned him that if the flesh proves too weak, he is asking for statutory rape charges and/or sudden marriage. Our son says I am overly critical of the girl and not to worry.

I talked to "Lolita's" mother when our son first started to take her out. I thought perhaps they didn't know his age, but they did. Our son has been invited to their summer cottage for weekends and the girl has no curfew, even on school nights. She came over here one day last summer wearing the skimpiest bikini I have ever seen. My husband was home at the time and his eyes almost fell out of his head. He said, "That is the most overblown 14-year-old I have ever seen."

What are parents of boys supposed to do? I'm afraid that warning him again would make as much sense as telling a pup not to eat a plate of fresh hamburger that has been set on the floor. — BLUE IN THE FACE MOTHER

Dear Blue Face: I congratulate you on your realistic evaluation of the situation. There isn't a thing you can do now except to hope the boy's common sense will triumph over the chemistry. Good luck to all of you.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is a very nice person. We have many friends and he has always been 100% trustworthy so far as I know, but I'm terribly worried about something. I suspect he is stealing. I hate the word but I don't know how else to say it.

My husband works in a store. Two nights a week he comes home with huge bags of merchandise. We are having a hard time making ends meet but we are not destitute. I don't dare accuse him of stealing because I have no proof but I know how much money he makes and where it goes. He can't possibly be paying for these enormous bags of merchandise out of his salary.

I am terrified that one day he will get caught, but I'm afraid to bring up the subject. Please tell me what to do — GETTING GREY

Dear Grey: Tell your husband you know he is not paying cash for the merchandise he lugs home and that you shudder to think of the bill he is running up. Tell him from now on unless he shows you a receipt for cash you are going to return everything the next day.

Confidential to Best Laid Plans: Of course they sometimes go astray. But any fool can stumble along by guess and by golly. Bright people plan ahead. Remember, the future has a habit of suddenly becoming the present and if you're wise you'll prepare for it.

Confidential to Humiliated and Afraid To Try Again: Every bride has had a similar experience and even experienced cooks have occasional fops. What you need is a sense of humor. Your husband should not have said what he did even if the dinner looked like Andy Warhol's garbage, but you should not have taken his remarks to heart.

Does someone you love drink too much? What can you do about it? For forthright answers, get the booklet "Alcoholism—Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose $5 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Woman's Club Committee Packs Food Baskets

Members of the Philanthropic Committee of the Escanaba Woman's Club met Thursday morning at the Chamber of Commerce Building to pack boxes of food for distribution to families suffering hardship.

Each year the Woman's Club provides a number of local families with boxes containing staple foods and a variety of grocery items useful in preparing a holiday meal. Boxes will be distributed this weekend.

Chairman of the Philanthropic Committee is Mrs. George Bonfield and serving with her this year are the Mesdames, Paul Richter, Thomas Straebel, George Chaudoir, Fred Courter, D. Babcock, Walter Belau, Norman Bergeron, Fred Fisher, Hazen Hengesh, Arthur Kamrath, Howard Smale, George Eastin, Ed Hurley and Sherwood Trotter.

In addition to their Christmas food distribution the committee makes funds available to the school nurse for aiding school children in need and also contributes to other community services.

All proceeds from the Woman's Club Charity Ball go to welfare projects of the Philanthropic Committee. This year's Ball will be a glittering social event held in the midst of holiday festivity on Dec. 28 at the Della Supper Club. The Charity Ball is open to the public and those attending will enjoy a gala evening while helping to support welfare activity through the Woman's Club. Tickets are available at Gust Asp. Garters, West End Drug and Lewis of Gladstone.

Gladstone News

Home and Cabin Entered, State Police Report

State Police of the Gladstone post today are investigating two breaking and enterings, one a cabin and the other a home.

Officers said that the Glen Mosier home at Danforth was entered some time after Dec. 9 and a quantity of liquor and two guns are missing. The Mosiers were away and returned Thursday to discover the burglary.

The cabin is owned by Edward Terrien of 933 N. 30th St., Escanaba, and is located in Wells Township, Marquette County. Conservation officers discovered the cabin had been broken into and notified State Police Thursday. The loss has not been determined as yet.

Briefly Told

Bulbs Short Out As Electricity Goes On

MRS. HENRY PHILEMON, although two of her children, being children, seem more interested in the Christmas tree, uses an electric iron for the first time Thursday afternoon in her Hannahville home after Alger-Delta Cooperative Electric Association turned on electric power. She had previously ironed with flat irons heated on the stove. Children, from left, are Vivian, 8; Lynn, 3; Sharon, 9; Loren, 5, and Leon, 3. Lynn and Leon are twins. Below, Joseph Sagataw, chief of the Potawatomi tribe, left, and Henry Philemon hang first electric lights on Hannahville Community building. (Daily Press Photos by Bernard Schultz)

Holstein Herd Brings $8,719 A Head In Sale

The purebred dairy cattle industry, in Wisconsin and across the country, is still talking about the Cinderella story of a Connecticut man and his cow.

Donald Augur, 50, Northford, Conn., has sold his herd of 72 Holsteins at auction for $627,750, or $8,719 a head, more than twice the previous average for the breed.

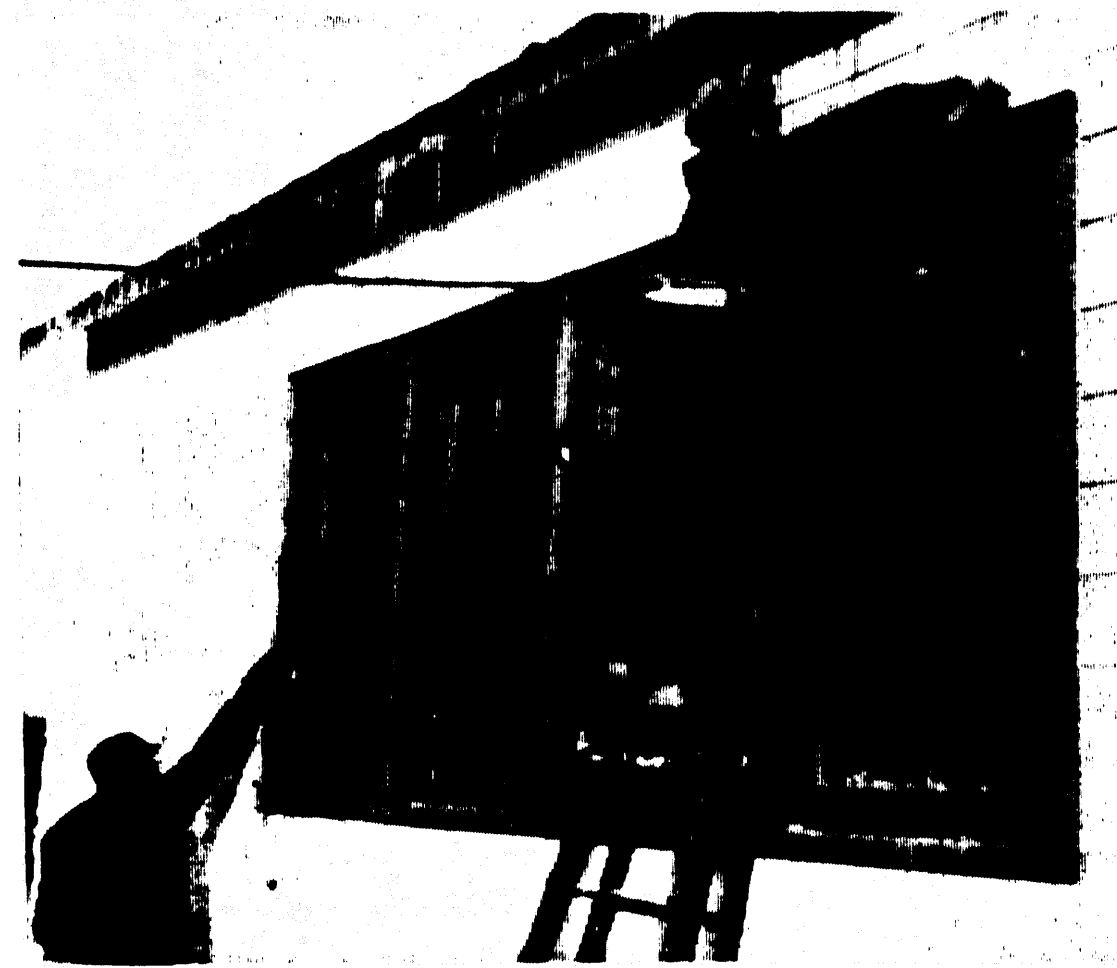

Augur and his wife, who have no children and have done most of their own farm work, live on a 100 acre portion of his family's old homestead, about 10 miles from New Haven, Conn. It is no showplace. The stanchion barn is supplemented by a shed for surplus heifers. He has no time, he said, to take his cattle to the showring.

Augur, the survivor of six brothers, decided to sell out "to get some rest and to see what we had accomplished." The record setting auction was the result.

Wisconsin buyers spent about half the money for the Augur cattle.

Charge Driver Was Intoxicated

Fred J. King, 60, of 1111 6th Ave. S. was to be arraigned in Municipal Court today on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants. Escanaba police arrested him at 1st Ave. N. and 14th St. at 10:50 p.m. Thursday because of his erratic driving. He was released on $50 bond for his appearance in court at 3 p.m.

U.S. Destroyer Is Damaged By Land Batteries

were reported still exchanging fire this afternoon with a Communist force estimated at about 500 men.

Units of the 26th Marine Regiment reported killing 110 of the enemy in fighting since midnight in the scrub country 16 miles northwest of Hue. These enemy losses swelled to 175 the Communists reported killed by the Marines since they launched Operation Chinook Tuesday.

Marine casualties were termed light.

The giant B52s flew in from Guam before dawn to hit at a Viet Cong base camp and supply depot only 35 miles northwest of Saigon.

Later in the morning, the eight-engine bombers raided a North Vietnamese storage area about five miles above the Demilitarized Zone and near the Laotian border.

With the cease-fire hour drawing near, U.S. and allied forces began moving into defensive positions but left reconnaissance units in the field and outpost watches on station. Over North Vietnam, U.S. planes will keep up a "continued vigilance," a spokesman said.

Presumably this means planes will make reconnaissance patrols but there will be no bombing strikes during the truce Saturday and Sunday. Offshore, U.S. ships on picket duty will maintain a steady radar watch.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, said tonight he sees no "military advantage" in extending any of the truce periods set for Christmas, New Year's and the Vietnamese lunar new year of Tet.

In an interview with the Mutual Broadcasting System, Westmoreland said U.S. forces will be "very much on the alert" just prior to the start of the cease-fire because "we suspect" the enemy might attempt a major attack and allied reaction might be stopped because of the truce.

HARRIS—A strange thing happened on the way to electric power for Hannahville Thursday—merchants in Bark River ran out of Christmas tree lights.

Billy Bolin, Bureau of Indian Affairs field representative from Gladstone, chuckled when he thought of it. All the preparations by dozens of people and then not enough bulbs. It was a happy thought.

"There isn't a store in Bark River with a Christmas tree light left," Bolin smiled, pointing at the Community Building decorations. "They had to go to Escanaba to get those."

Electric power began going into homes at Hannahville early in the afternoon as Alger-Delta Cooperative crews began making final hookups. By 2:30, the Community Building had power and at 8 o'clock electric lights on the big evergreen tree outside were glowing.

It was a faint glow in the daylight, but they were on.

Inside, the fixtures shown down on nine refrigerators and 10 stoves waiting distribution to the anxious families. Most of them had names written on the white porcelain.

There were other appliances, too, and more on the way, according to Ray LaPorte, director of the Menominee-Delta-Schoolcraft Community Action agency.

It seemed a happy way to welcome Christmas.

Driver Of Sand Truck To Face Canadian Court

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Eight suburban Windsor families forgot Christmas trees and gifts Thursday as they made plans to bury their children.

The youngsters, ages six through nine, smothered or were crushed to death Wednesday when a tractor-trailer rig overturned and poured 10 tons of sand of their school bus.

Services will be held today for two children, Saturday for the other six.

Meanwhile, the driver of the sand truck was arraigned in Windsor Magistrate Court Thursday. Marcel LeFrancois, 32, of Stoney Point, Ont., was charged with dangerous driving and released without bond. If convicted he could receive up to $500 in fines and six months in jail.

The driver's attorney said that a poorly salted road and a defect in the coupling device between the truck's cab and trailer may have been responsible for the accident.

Attorney Brian Clemens said LeFrancois has an accident-free record in 17 years of driving.

Buffalo Bill Cody once fought a famous duel with Yellow Hand (or Yellow Hair), a Cheyenne Indian warrior.

Council Plans Special Meet

The Escanaba City Council will hold a special meeting in the City Hall at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 28, as established by resolution at the last Council meeting.

For consideration by the Council will be:

Authorization for the mayor and clerk to execute an agreement with Peninsula Air Transport Co. for the use of facilities at the Escanaba Municipal Airport. The Air Transport Co. plans to begin service about Jan. 15.

Consideration of the endorsement of the merger of the North Western Railway and the Milwaukee Road.

Continued discussion of public parking facilities and financial participation therein.

Consideration of an application for federal financial participation in the proposed Recreation Building.

Consideration of a proposed lease with Ben Yagodzinski for the rental of seven acres of city-owned land for five years for a planned industrial expansion.

U.P. Iron Is Used In Tech's Newest Building

HOUGHTON — Construction is beginning on the new $5,800,000 chemistry and biological sciences building at Michigan Tech. here.

The seven-story structure is believed to be the tallest ever built in the Upper Peninsula and also the first large building to use steel frame construction rather than a concrete skeleton.

Designers are Harley, Ellington, Cowin & Stinton Inc., Detroit architects and engineers who have recently designed major buildings for several other campuses including the University of Michigan, Michigan State University, Western Michigan University and Macomb County Community College.

A total of 2 million pounds of structural steel will be used in the Tech building. The steel is being fabricated and erected by Zalk-Josephs Co., of Duluth and Bethlehem Steel Corp. reported that the beams and columns being used were probably produced from ore mined in the Upper Peninsula. The company said Michigan ore is shipped to the Bethlehem plant in Lackawanna, N.Y., where the steel for the Michigan Tech building was produced.

In This Corner

with Ray Crandell

Dear Santa:

It's that time of year again. When you make your usual rounds for Christmas I'd appreciate a few stops for some of the sports on my beat. Here's a short list of suggestions and a Ho Ho Ho to you:

Bob Dufour—A sailor to undo the knots his new Holy Name wrestlers tie themselves into.

Jerry Cvenegros—Upper Peninsula road map to aid in finding some football foes to replace Antigo, Alpena, Canadian Soo.

Harold Johnson—Lower Michigan road map showing the way to East Lansing, site of the state basketball tournament.

Jim Grabowski—Giant album to contain the press clippings he is sure to accumulate as Packers' power runner of the future.

Associated Press—Michigan High School Athletic Association classification list with St. Ignace in Class C.

Me—Another stocking full of martinis. The one last year leaked.

Ernie Terrell—Gun. It will even the odds a little when he fights Ali Babble.

Bill Wood—Bibs for his Gladstone High School "kiddle corps" basketball players who must be the youngest varsity crew in the Upper Peninsula this season.

Northern Michigan University football players—Campaign ribbons for the successful war they waged with the Quantico Marines this fall.

Paul Vardigan—Bigger pie for more people to get their fingers in, recreationally speaking.

Don Pfothauer—All-America tag to hang on his protege at the University of Wisconsin, Tom Domes.

Ron Rubick—Adding machine to keep track of the records Bob Cowman and Gary Sample will set in the passing and receiving departments next football season at Manistiquie.

Tom O'Neil—Twelve inches more in height so he'll match the stature he attained in his first year as Holy Name grid mentor.

Readers—Happy Holidays.

Strack Sees 'M' Flashes

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Dave Strack, the University of Michigan basketball coach, has been seeing flashes when he wants to see a steady glow.

"You see so many flashes of so many good things," he said after watching his Wolverines beat Ohio University 86-80 Thursday night.

"We did everything well at times," he said. "But we want to do it all the time. They can do good things, but they make mistakes. They try for the spectacular moves and I just want the basic moves."

Michigan, playing in spurts, outscored Ohio 48-43 and outshot the Bobcats, 51 per cent to 41.

A 10-point burst early in the game put the Wolverines out ahead 18-10 and set the pattern for the game. Michigan led 41-30 at the half, mostly on the shooting of Jim Pitts and Dennis Stewart. Pitts got 14 points and Stewart 12 in the first half.

However, a nine-point outburst by Ohio early in the second period tied it 47-47. Then Craig Dill got two field goals sandwiched around two free throws by Bob Sullivan and the Wolverines stayed safely ahead.

Pitts led all scorers with 23 points. Sullivan got 21 and Stewart a total of 15. Dill totaled 12. Ohio stayed in the game on the shooting of Fred Cluff and Mike Hammond, who got 22 points each.

Rock Rolls To 6th Straight Cage Win

ROCK — The Rock Little Giants rolled to their sixth consecutive basketball victory after an opening setback to Trenary by whipping Cooks 49-41 Thursday night.

Both teams suffered through below average 29 per cent field goal shooting to contribute to the low score.

Setback was only the second in six starts for Cooks. The Clippers are idle now until Jan. 3 when they host unbeaten Trenary. Rock will rest for the holidays until a Jan. 7 match at Perkins.

With seniors Jim and Larry Lippens combining to sweep 33 rebounds, Rock steadily eased away from a 10-10 first quarter deadlock to its eight-point victory margin. The Little Giants led by three points at the half and four entering the final quarter.

Junior Dan Johnson potted 10 of his team-leading 18 points in the final period to spoil any hopes of a Cooks comeback. Larry Lippens added 13 points and Jim Lippens 11 for the winners.

For Cooks, Neil Hartman was the top producer with 13 points, followed by Bruce Swagart with 12. The Clippers were hurt by their inability to convert from the foul line, making only three of 10 shots off 10 Rock fouls. Rock, which had a 20-19 edge in field goals, made nine of 20 free throws.

In the preliminary game,

Cooks walked off with a 57-27 junior varsity victory.

Thurmond Stops Chamberlain, But 76ers Still Win

By The Associated Press

Nate Thurmond, Wilt Chamberlain's understudy when both played for San Francisco, hounded Philadelphia's superstar tenaciously but in vain Thursday night. Thurmond may have won the personal contest, but the 76ers won the game.

In the only National Basketball Association action, the Philadelphia 76ers outlasted a dogged Warrior squad and won, 116-114, although Thurmond held Chamberlain to 14 points and outscored the Big Dipper.

Michigan, Michigan State Advance To Hockey Finals

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan meets Michigan State in the finals of the Great Lakes Invitational Hockey Tournament tonight at Olympia Stadium in Detroit.

The Wolverines defeated host Michigan Tech 4-3 in the second game on Thursday.

Michigan State beat Western Ontario 5-4 in overtime in the first game.

Michigan's All-American Mel Wakabayashi scored two goals for the Wolverines. The winning marker came on a shot by Ron Ulyot at 17:53 of the final period, giving the Wolverines a 4-2 margin. Tech's Colin Patterson put the Huskies back in the game with a goal at 18:45.

Wakabayashi and Bob Baird scored first period goals 26 seconds apart to take an early lead. Tech tied the game on goals by John Haines and Bob Tothill before Wakabayashi put Michigan ahead to stay at 6:11 of the third stanza.

MSU All-American Doug Volmer fired in the winning goal at 4:54 of overtime play. Dick Bois gained an assist on the 20-foot blast from the left side.

Western led 2-1 at the end of the first period but State carried a 3-4 lead into the final stanza.

Two Western goals sandwiched around Spartan Tom Mikhola's second goal of the evening and knotted the score at 4-4 at the end of regulation play.

Big Ten, NCAA Talk Over Illini

CHICAGO (AP) — The case of reported athletic irregularities at the University of Illinois was in the hands today of the Big Ten and the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

Big Ten Commissioner Bill Reed conducted an all-day hearing Thursday as he probed a report made to him last Friday by President David D. Henry of Illinois concerning questionable grant in aid assistance to athletes at the school.

Read and Art Bergstrom, an invited representative of the NCAA, conferred with five Illinois officials at Reed's office yesterday.

Reed did not disclose the result of his findings.

Dr. Henry was informed of the alleged irregularities, said to have transpired the past four years last week.

Smith Swings

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Detroit Red Wing Floyd Smith scored three goals against his teammates Thursday night in leading the Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League to a 9-0 victory over their parent club in an exhibition game.

They were following the Hansen and Gov-elect Stan Hathaway, both Republicans, were run out of the Florida State workout after jesting being accused as "football spies" by a young coach.

"It was all kinda comical," commented Dave Lantz, graduate assistant at FSU, after he had asked Hansen, Hathaway, University of Wyoming President Dr. John King and two others to leave the practice.

But it wasn't nearly as comical for Wyoming gridders Glen Lybarger, offensive tackle, and Tom Gottburg, defensive end.

They were following the Wyoming team bus in a private car driven by a professional football scout. The car lost the bus at a stop light. The two players and the scout drove for nearly an hour trying to find the high school field where the Wyoming team practiced.

They never did find it, and neither did Hansen and Hathaway.

When they showed up at the FSU workout, Lantz and another graduate assistant, Al Conover, asked them to identify themselves. They did and were told they couldn't stay — in a nice way.

Besides last players, Wyoming has another problem. The Cowboys have new uniforms for the nationally televised game (NBC) which starts at 4 p.m. EST, and they can't make up their minds whether to wear white helmets or gold ones.

A spokesman said it depends on which shows up better in the game to be televised in color.

Bruins Stay Unbeaten:

Alcindor Off Form, Still Hits 34 Points

By The Associated Press

Lew Alcindor played his poorest game, but college basketball's sophomore phenomenon still threw in 34 points to lead top-ranked UCLA to an 84-74 victory over Colorado State University.

Down 41-34 at halftime, the CSU Rams from Fort Collins tied the score at 64-64 before Alcindor spoiled their chance Thursday night of going into the record books as the first college team to beat UCLA and their 7-foot-1 1/2 superstar.

Alcindor and Lynn Shackelford hit for four straight field goals to break the tie with less than five minutes left and delight a crowd of 12,487 at Pauley Pavilion in Los Angeles.

"I played poorly, especially on defense," Alcindor said. "I just wasn't alert as much as I should have been on defense. I don't feel I'm progressing as fast as I would like to defensively. They gave me some trouble with their size and rebounding."

"It was probably Alcindor's poorest game so far this year, over-all," commented Johnny Wooden, the UCLA coach, after his 500th game as a college mentor.

"We didn't move the ball as well as we should have, but that may have been due to our lay-off. I think the best thing we did was to come back in the second half after they had tied us. That always matures a team."

It was the fourth in a row for the unbeaten Bruins, who hadn't played since they routed Duke Dec. 10. Tonight Notre Dame moves into Pauley Pavilion to try to upset the Bruins.

Alcindor got his 34 points on 13 field goals and eight of 13 free throws. Big 6-7 Sonny Buscison and 6-8 Bob Rube topped the Rams with 17 and 12 points, respectively.

Seventh-ranked Cincinnati, the only other team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, had to go overtime to edge Texas Christian 86-88.

Kentucky trounced Oregon State 96-66 and Kansas State numbed Penn State 83-59 in the first round of the UK invitational while in other games New Orleans Loyola nipped Washington 88-87. Rutgers downed Pitt 87-68. Michigan defeated Ohio State 86-80 and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia routed Jacksonville Univ. 81-63. Oregon beat the unbeaten Bruins, who hadn't Hawaii 73-64 in Honolulu.

Burnett Named AFL 'Rookie'

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Burnett of the Buffalo Bills, the oldest of three football-playing brothers, gave them a target to shoot at today when he was named Rookie of the Year in the American Football League by The Associated Press.

The 23-year-old halfback won the crown in a tight battle, polling 15 votes to nine for Mike Garrett of the Kansas City Chiefs from the three man committees of sports writers and sports casters in the nine league cities.

Garrett, the Heisman Trophy winner when he was at Southern California, proved a flashier performer than Burnett, ripping off 801 yards, including a 77-yard romp that was the longest from scrimmage in the AFL this season.

But Burnett undoubtedly impressed the voters with his steady performances for the Bills as he gained 766 yards, scored four touchdowns and added running power to the Buffalo attack.

East-West Stars Cheer Children

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — No block or tackle on the Kezar Stadium football field Dec. 31 can match the viciousness of the blows nature has inflicted on crippled children for whom the East-West game is played.

The players and coaches saw this for themselves Thursday.

They visited the San Francisco Shriners Hospital for which the game has raised more than $5 million in 41 years.

After an apprehensive beginning that lasted only momentarily, everyone began to smile.

"I see you have an Oregon State banner up there," Jim Wilkins, a 225-pound guard from OSU, said to 3-year-old Lester.

"That's so Santa can come and see how nice it is," said Lester.

Each player was assigned a child. It didn't take long to get warmly acquainted.

Every player got a wallet with his picture inside. The players gave presents, too. All-America linebacker Tom Lynch of Notre Dame gave a balloon to smiling Bonnie, 9. She took it with her right hand which had only a thumb and forefinger.

Lynch, who had to turn away for a few seconds, will have Bonnie as his incentive a week from Saturday.

Players in the San Francisco Shrine game not only give their holidays but are unpaid.

The East got the girl's wing and the West the boys'. But each squad visited both wings where banners with school colors and names flew from every back.

Robertson, Wilt Head East Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain and Oscar Robertson lead a list of eight players selected today to play for the Eastern Division in the 17th annual National Basketball Association All-Star game in San Francisco's Cow Palace Jan. 10.

Chamberlain, of Philadelphia, was the unanimous choice at center of the 85 writers and broadcasters who voted for the team. Robertson, of Cincinnati, received 64 votes at guard.

Others named were Willis Reed of New York, Bailey Howell of Boston and Jerry Lucas of Cincinnati, forward; Bill Russell, center; and Hal Greer of Philadelphia and John Havlicek of Boston, guards.

The Western Division team will be announced Sunday.

Some of the kids could get out of their beds with the aid of crutches or braces. Casts covered legs, arms or entire bodies.

The older boys gave West Head Coach John Ralston a cheer. Suzanne, 14, led a spell-out W-E-S-T T-E-A-M.

The visit was over. The older boys able to get into the hall watched through a window as the players boarded a motorized cable car replica to go downtown.

The East will practice at Santa Clara and the West at Palo Alto starting today.

Springfield Six Back In Action

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — The Springfield Indians return to American Hockey League action in a meeting with Providence tonight with several regulars benched in the wake of an abortive week-long revolt against owner Eddie Shore.

Shore, who went searching for talent in the United States and Canada after the Indians walked out Monday, said that five newcomers from the Central League would dress for the game with the Reds.

He said the remainder of the team will be "augmented with some of the present players."

Shore, a 64-year-old pro in dealing with defiant players, refused to give ground in pro hockey's first full-scale player rebellion since 1925.

He rejected demands that he reinstate suspended defenseman Dale Rolfe, Bill White and Dave Amadio and veteran forward Brian Kilrea, and insisted that the team's other 19 players honor contracts.

The 19 threatened to continue the walkout until their four teammates were reinstated, but reluctantly agreed to return on the advice of special counsel, Alan Eagleson, a Toronto attorney.

Shore had suspended the four players for what he called "indifferent play."

Florida Removes Wyoming 'Scouts'

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Football practice sessions for Saturday's Sun Bowl game became so secretive Thursday that two Wyoming players got lost.

And Wyoming Gov. Clifford Hansen and Gov-elect Stan Hathaway, both Republicans, were run out of the Florida State workout after jesting being accused as "football spies" by a young coach.

"It was all kinda comical," commented Dave Lantz, graduate assistant at FSU, after he had asked Hansen, Hathaway, University of Wyoming President Dr. John King and two others to leave the practice.

But it wasn't nearly as comical for Wyoming gridders Glen Lybarger, offensive tackle, and Tom Gottburg, defensive end.

Sun Bowl, Blue-Gray Take Spotlight

By The Associated Press

Wyoming and Florida State and two versions of the North vs. the South step into the college football spotlight over the Christmas weekend.

Saturday, the Sun Bowl matches Wyoming and Florida State in a nationally televised game (NBC, 4 p.m. EST) from El Paso Tex., while the Blue plays the Gray (CBS, 2 p.m. EST) at Montgomery, Ala.

On Monday, the North plays the South (ABC, 4 p.m. EST) at the Orange Bowl in Miami.

Florida State Coach Bill Peterson frankly pins his team's hopes on the long pass, calling it "the key to our victory hopes and I don't think there's any secret to it." Sophomore quarterback Gary Pajcic will do the throwing for the team which was 6-4 during the regular season.

Wyoming, 9-1 during the season, features the running of Vic Washington and the throwing of Rick Egloff. Jerry dePoyster can also kick field goals from as far out as 46 yards.

Terry Southall of Baylor will quarterback the Gray team in Montgomery, while Blues' big guns will be running backs Jim Detweiler of Michigan and Bob McKeivy of Northwestern.

In the North-South contest, Negro quarterback Hank Washington of West Texas State will direct the South attack along with Bo Burris of Houston.

BEWARE THE TREE!

It takes more than trimming to make a Christmas tree a suitable indoor decoration. A dry, untreated tree could mean a hazardous rather than a happy Yule. Agriculture Department safety experts say safety is simple if a few rules are followed.

Always buy a fresh tree. The price may be higher, but it's well worth it. A dry tree can't absorb enough water to make it safe.

As soon as you get the tree home, saw 2 inches off the butt and so it will absorb water and stay fresh. Keep it in water until you discard it. A too-dry tree can be ignited by a spark and burn in seconds.

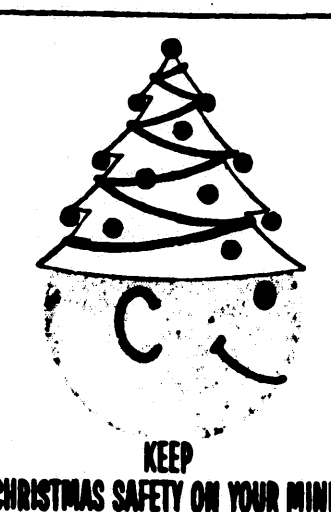

Check the water level daily. Store the tree in a cool, shady place until ready to decorate. It's best to buy close to decoration time.

Trees can be made flame-resistant by spraying with a mixture of 1 pound of borax and 1 pound of ammonium chloride dissolved in three quarts of water. Spray until all branches are well moistened.

MANISTIQUE

Car Accident

A car driven by Gregory Soukup, 18, of 134 N. 4th St., rolled over on U. S. 2 in Nahma township after hitting an icy section, at 7:45 p. m., Wednesday. State Police said the driver complained of pain. The top and side of the vehicle were damaged. He was ticketed for not having a chauffeur license.

Hospital

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital were Barbara Beckman, Lynne Olsen, Don Wood, Fred Hinkson, Edward Gregurash, Donald Weber and Jay Kettick.

Briefly Told

Mrs. Cal Stevens was taken by ambulance from her home at Indian Lake to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital at 7:20 a. m. Thursday.

State Police ticketed Herm J. Wyman, McBain, failure to keep log book up to date and Harold G. Beck, 802 Garden, speeding.

Plea of guilty on charges of being minors in possession of alcoholic beverage were entered in Justice Court by Albert E. Erickson, 18, and David D. Neadow, 18, both of Cooks. Fines of $45 and costs of $3.70 were assessed.

"O, come all ye faithful"

Come, let us adore Him, Christ, the Lord.

Let us lift our voices in hymns of praise. Let us hear with glad hearts, with prayer and devotion, the glory of His message. Let us rejoice, for the hope and promise of Christmas lives on eternally.

And as we bow our heads reverently, with prayers of gratitude for the blessings that came to all mankind on the first Christmas, let the most hopeful of all words ring out, and resound throughout the world. "Peace on Earth, Good Will to All Men."

For our many friends we have this special wish . . . May you be glad of heart at this Holy Christmas season, and may the high inspiration of the Day abide with you now and always.

CHOIR BOYS enter the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, Old Jerusalem, Jordan, at Christmas. This ancient church built by Queen Helena and the Emperor Constantine, is now undergoing complete restoration which will cost more than $2 million. Some scaffolding and construction sheds are seen in the picture.

LaBranche Mineral Bids Are Offered

Iron ore leases on 14 forties of state-owned lands in northern Menominee County will be offered at public auction Jan. 24 in Lansing.

The forties are in the LaBranche area off Menominee County Road 69 between Whitney and Hardwood.

They are scattered over three townships. Spalding and Harris townships form the top of Menominee County and U. S. Steel Corp. is a large holder of lands in Spalding.

Mineral lease sales usually are conducted on state lands after some individual or corporation requests an opportunity to bid for the mineral rights.

The Michigan Department of Conservation did not divulge the identity of the party making the request.

Although one of the Upper Peninsula's three iron ranges is known as the Menominee Range, iron ore has never been found in mineable quantities in Menominee County. The LaBranche area lies south of the Marquette Range and east of the Menominee.

Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. did diamond drilling in Spalding Township in the last decade in the course of a long range examination of mineralization of the area which also examined the geology of Delta County and western Schoolcraft County.

The westernmost mining of iron on the Menominee Range was at Waucedah in eastern Dickinson County only a few miles from the Menominee County line, where the Breen Brothers of Menominee opened an iron mine in the last century. It was not successful. When Menominee Range iron mining became commercially successful later it was to the west at Vulcan, Norway, Quinnesec and Iron Mountain.

Geologists have reported that the Menominee Range iron formation probably continues underground to the east into Menominee and Delta counties. The mere presence of iron would not be industrially significant unless it were of a commercial grade and deposit and available by profitable mining methods. The Upper Peninsula's rebirth of iron mining has been in "open pit" (surface) mining of jasper, a hard rock with iron content like Minnesota's taconite, except for the Mather Mine whose underground ore is being pelletized at the Pioneer Plant.

*Merry Christmas

Wingless Craft In Safe Landing

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Looking like a silver slipper, the sleek wingless craft dropped from a B52 at 45,000 feet and glided to a safe landing.

"It's like landing an airplane in a 30-degree dive," said pilot Bruce Peterson, 33, after his three-minute flight here in the HL10. "I came in at very high speeds, perhaps 250 to 280 knots."

The HL10 is one of three wingless craft being tested to develop a vehicle that can re-enter the atmosphere for a pilot-controlled landing.

Northrop Corp. Norair Division built the HL10 and its cousin, the M2F2, which has made several successful flights. The HL10 has a flat bottom, the M2F2 a rounded one.
